

Halado Leadership
Tomorrows Leaders Today

Being a Leader for your time - Executive Leadership Programme

Email: hello@haladoleadership.co.uk
Website: www.haladoleadership.co.uk
Telephone: (+44) 0114 700 5778

Your Unique 5 day Residential Executive Leadership Experience

This small and intimate residential programme for senior people in public services creates an unrivalled opportunity to prepare for the next chapter in your Leadership journey.

This is far more than just a "nine to five" learning programme, it is a unique development experience that helps you build the skills and knowledge required to be an outstanding leader that creates long lasting impact and a personal legacy.

The programme will help you get the most from your five days and gives you access to opportunities and individuals away from the "training room" that will support you in your leadership journey.

You will leave with a network of outstanding people who you can call on as you start to establish your leadership legacy.

5 Day All inclusive Residential Course
Our Next Course - only 15 spaces, book NOW
London - Sunday 10th - Friday 15th November 2024

Programme Directors: Maria Older & Lord Paul Scriven

£5.600 + VAT

For leaders such as Permanent and Deputy Permanent Secretaries, CEO, Deputy CEO, Senior Directors, Board Members and those whose next step will be such a role and learning journey that heeds both the needs of your environment and the experiences of the present and refining the details of your own legacy.

Course Objectives: enable you to:

Identify your leadership strengths, areas for improvement and discover the impact of elements of adaptive leadership approach and learn the tools to use to Use moral leadership to be a true leader

Work on the balance between personal and corporate purpose and use techniques to Explore the mindset of a progressive leader focusing on values and beliefs that determine the key principles, behaviour and attitudes

Work on the major shift in skills leaders in power and authority must have

Work on communicating with empathy and mental toughness

Develop a leadership legacy- make your legend a reality

Programme Directors - Maria Older & Lord Paul Scriven

Maria is an inspirational and results-focused professional with over 30 years' experience as a senior executive and trainer.

An energetic, authentic and highly inspirational Leadership Development Professional with a wealth of experience delivering pragmatic development interventions across the globe to people from various private sector industries and to many officials of the public sector including elected members of Parliaments.

She is an enthusiastic trainer, coach, facilitator and presenter using her life experiences to make learning real and pragmatic. She uses the latest research material to back up her experiences.

Paul has over 30 years' of leading in the public and private sector. Known for a strong reputation in innovation, enterprise and outcome improvement.

He brings a unique prospective. Not only as a senior executive in the public & private sector but also complemented by being a politician at both national and local levels

Paul empowers teams for maximum impact. He understands leaders have to work with "softer issues" such as emotional intelligence and influencing. He has an authentic and open style of leading.

He works across the world with diverse teams including Ministers, Permanent Secretaries, Mayors, senior executives and those aspiring to executive positions.

Programme Design, style and outcome

The programme uses current research ideas designed to spark curiosity and shed new light on how leadership should be practised to deal with ever changing challenges

The style of the programme aims to be informative, highly interactive and energising having a mixture of classroom based participative sessions with guest presenters and practitioners in their own environment.

The overall aim of the programme is to give you powerful and realistic learning to develop your capabilities and self-confidence by giving you increased self-awareness so you make things happen on return to the workplace.

This practical programme uses various self-assessment tools, examine case studies, meeting with practitioners which also creates networking opportunities, visiting iconic sites of the host country and can provide personal 121 coaching to address specific individual concerns.

We have a seat waiting for you.

This programme is provided as a full 24 hour package and offers unrivalled learning and development for senior people in public service.

The programme is over five days and because we never have more than 16 participants you get a superior and individual learning experience.

Your residential programme offers learning and Development from expert programme directors, five days learning, & all your learning materials. Your accommodation is provided in a luxury hotel as well as breakfast, lunch and dinners.

As part of your time with us this programme offer your small select group a welcome reception, programme dinner along with a half day cultural excursion.

Book your seat now by emailing us at hello@haladoleadership.co.uk or at our website www.haladoleadership.co.uk

